CRUISER BILL FIGHT STARTED BY NAVY GROUP

NATIONAL PROHIBITION LAW ENTERS TENTH YEAR

HARD BATTLE PREDICTED IN SENATE

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Opposition to the tidelands drilling bill, designed to protect California's beaches, suddenly developed here today shortly before the bill was to have been voted upon in the senate.

The measure had successfully passed in the assembly and it was expected no obstacles would be met before its final passage.

According to George Bilbo, assemblyman from Santa Barbara, sponsor of the bill, representatives of special interests approached him today and asked him to offer amendments to his bill; when he refused to consider the proposals, the amendments suddenly appeared in the senate today.

Action Thursday
Final settlement of the matter was set for Thursday when Bilbo is confident he will be able to muster enough votes to secure its passage.

A show down on the tidelands drilling bill is expected to occur in the senate Thursday. The senate has agreed to adjourn at that time but a determined stand of some assemblymen may ruin the plans to make this the shortest first session on record.

Isaac Jones, floor leader of the assembly, will wage the fight to adjourn and will be opposed by William Hornblower, assemblyman from San Francisco.

Taxation Row
Revenue taxation committee of the senate and assembly will meet Friday afternoon will discuss the matter.

JULIAN BRIBE TO KEYES TOLD

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Joseph Sherman, a journeyman tailor who talks like Mill Gross, writes, told a jury here today that he saw money from Julian Petroleum corporation defendant pass to the possession of Asa Keyes when the latter was District Attorney of Los Angeles county.

Sherman, an extremely difficult witness to examine because of his dialect, said he was unable to fix the amount, but that he observed through a mirror in the Getzoff shop the transfer of currency to Keyes.

This is the first state's evidence in the Keyes bribery trial which related a cash payment.

AT HOTEL CARQUEZ

Breaks Own Air Record

EDMUND MATUCHA, once a "plow jockey," broke his own air mail flight record by traveling the 450 miles between Kansas City and Chicago in two hours and 37 minutes.

SHORT LINE PLANS MADE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—The Sacramento Short Line Railroad will be made a part of the Western Pacific main line, according to Arthur C. James, president of the Western Pacific line. The Sacramento line, which runs from Oakland to Sacramento, was recently acquired by the Western Pacific.

James declared that it will cost a large amount to rebuild the Sacramento line but that it will shorten the main line of the Western Pacific tracks by 50 miles.

Rumors have been flying about ever since the Sacramento Northern line which in turn took over the Short line, that the Western Pacific would route its through freight and passenger trains from Sacramento directly into Oakland via the Contra Costa electrical line.

This move would give Contra Costa county transcontinental services via three competing lines.

Through the use of the Moffat tunnel, San Francisco will be brought nearer Denver, according to James. The Denver and Salt Lake railroad is building, or proposes to build 41 miles of railroad to connect its main line with the Denver and Rio Grande. If the latter road can use the 41 mile line and the Moffat tunnel, which is believed possible, the Western Pacific trains from San Francisco to Denver will be saved a haul of 174 miles, James declared.

It is rumored that James is planning a merger of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Western Pacific lines, which will be powerful enough to give competition to the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific.

County Official In Auto Accident

SOLONS URGE COMPLETION OF PLAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Less than 24 hours after ratification of the anti-war treaty, almost before the peacocks of peace had time to stop re-echoing in the senate chamber, the senate today started discussing the possibilities of war and the need of constructing 15 naval cruisers and one aircraft carrier.

The bill up for debate, already passed by the house, provides for a three year construction program of five cruisers a year during 1929, 1930 and 1931.

At the same time in the house, Chairman Britten of the naval affairs committee, was declaring the need for 400 more military airplanes at a cost of $3,000,000 in addition to those already provided for in the five-year aeronautics program.

Swanson Reopens Fight
Senator Swanson, Virginia democrat, who reopened the cruiser debate, pointed out that the construction of the cruisers is a long term project.

In making plans for his proposed investigation into prohibition which it was made known today he intends to start soon after his inauguration, he has found a way to prevent this issue opening up others in the extra session.

Hoover will appoint the commission without and enabling resolution from congress, upon suggestion of dry and wet senatorial leaders who are authors of investigation resolutions. Jones, Washington, and Edge, N. J. both discussed the situation with him today.

SHALL MAJORITY RULE

Undoubtedly a vast majority of the American people are in favor of keeping the United States, in the words of Washington, in a "reasonable posture of defense." Failure to do this is an invitation to trouble—provocative rather than preventive of war. Our regular army is insignificant compared with the military forces maintained by other powers with less to defend—notably Soviet Russia, for which most of our professional pacifists show a tender side. Americans of pronounced alien sympathies oppose any form of military training for youth which is a necessary substitute for a large professional military establishment, the National Republic will say in the February number.

Despite this overwhelming national sentiment in favor of an adequate navy, the minority opposed to this is evidently well organized and heavily financed. It is inducing people opposed to national defense to bombard congress with letters and telegrams opposing the carrying out of President Coolidge's recommendation for the authorization of 15 cruisers. These cruiser when completed, because ships become obsolescent will only maintain our navy at its present strength. What these pacifists seek to bring about is therefore an actual reduction in American naval strength, while other powers are increasing their naval armaments. They would be satisfied with nothing short of bringing the American Navy to parity with that of Soviet Russia while keeping the American army at one-tenth of the strength of that maintained by the Moscow government.

Why should not those who represent majority sentiment on this question take the time to communicate their views to members of the House and Senate representing their several states? Why leave all the agitation to pacifists who make no concealment of being out of sympathy with the fundamentals of our form of government and who accompany their demands for the disarming of this country with constant criticism of the character and motives of the American government? For these are the people, in large part, who habitually take the foreign side of any international controversy in which this country becomes involved. They are the chronic critics of American institutions. When you couple the fact that so many of these agitators never have a good word to say for the American government, with the fact that they wish to disarm the United States, it is possible to have some idea of their motives in trying to make this country defenseless. It is clearly true that their agitation is not in the interests of peace, because they know that the United States harbors no designs of aggressive war and will cease to be a power for peace when our inability to defend ourselves has made our representations in behalf of peace seem only an expression of self interest.

The surest prescription for war is for the United States to disarm in the face of an armed world not all of it with a will to peace by any means. The opponents of reasonable preparedness are the real war breeders in this nation. Undoubtedly some of this protest against keeping our navy abreast with that of foreign powers is of alien inspiration. Those Americans who really believe in this country, care for it and wish to save it from invasion or insurrection should make themselves heard and not permit the organized enemies of national defense to create a false appearance of majority support.

President of the National Baseball League has suggested that each team should have an extra player to bat for the pitcher. A move more popular with the fans would be for somebody else to do the umpiring for the umpire.

Pittsburgh chief of police says that in spite of short skirts, the old "stocking bank" is the safest place for a woman to carry money. Perhaps so, but in these days of silk hose there are apt to be a lot of sudden runs on the bank.

BEAUTY

Dear Miss Lane, Isn't there something I can do to prevent my lips from chapping every time I go out these cold days? Not only does it look awful, it feels worse and I'd like to know how to stop it, oh, MARY.

Have you ever tried carrying one of those cold cream blisks in your pocketbook ready to rub on your lips as soon as they feel a bit dry? These are cold, and merely have the effect of softening the lips and protecting them from the cold.

When you use your skin face at night, be sure to apply it around the mouth.

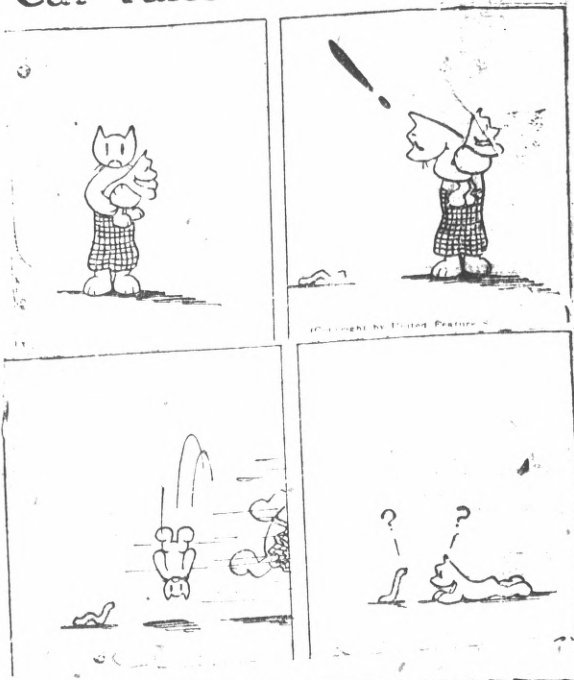

Dear Miss Lane, My friends are continually bickering off so that it is impossible for me to keep them looking at all well for any time. What can I do to prevent this, IRMA.

Give your friends a warm olive bath two or three times a week. This will help to make them less brittle and you will have less trouble with their breaking. Broken nails do spoil the picture, therefore, actively do not do it.

Do you wear your nails too long? If they break so easily you would do well to keep them fairly short to minimize the danger of their catching on things and snapping off.

Tolstoy's Servant

The servant went to market to buy pears, of which his master was inordinately fond.

"Good fruit," said the master, "or a beating for you!"

There were delicious pears in the market, and the servant selected a dozen of the finest in appearance. But here entered a doubt: Were they equally good in flavor? Would they satisfy the palate as well as the eye? The more he considered the matter the more anxious he became. That beating if the fruit were not satisfactory!

Desperately he bit into one. It was good. But the others?

Recklessly he bit into a second. It also was good. But how could he be sure the merchant was not cheating on those that remained?

In a frenzy he snatched a bite from all in turn; and then in triumph brought the fruit to his master...

STOCK GAINS IN STANDARD OIL ROW

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—UP—Nine million two hundred thousand dollars worth of stock in the Standard Oil company of Indiana changed hands today in the contest for control between John D. Rockefeller Jr. and Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors.

At the stockholders meeting March 7 the issue between the two will be determined. Rockefeller, charging that Stewart was not faithful to his trust because of his conduct in the Continental Oil deal revealed by the Senate Oil investigation, and also that Stewart broke a promise to resign if Rockefeller requested him to, called for proxies against Stewart last week.

Stewart, who gained his early training as a fighter under Roosevelt in the Rough Riders, had no intention of giving up without a struggle and since then the contest has been on.

Standard Oil of Indiana is dealt in only on the New York curb market. It is there that the preliminary to the battle which will be decided March 7, are believed to be taking place. Both Rockefeller and Stewart are reported buying up the stock as fast as it is offered.

Each day, since Rockefeller called for proxies, the battle on the floor of the Exchange for this stock has been hotter and each day the price has gone up. Today 92,000 shares of the stock changed hands. The first sale was 10,000 shares at $99.375 per share. Once it sold as high as $103.25 and it dropped at one time to $92.50, but the closing price was $99 a share, a gain of $2 for the day.

It was believed that the first sale of 9,000 shares represented orders placed overnight by either Rockefeller or Stewart. Brokers are not permitted to reveal the names of buyers and sellers.

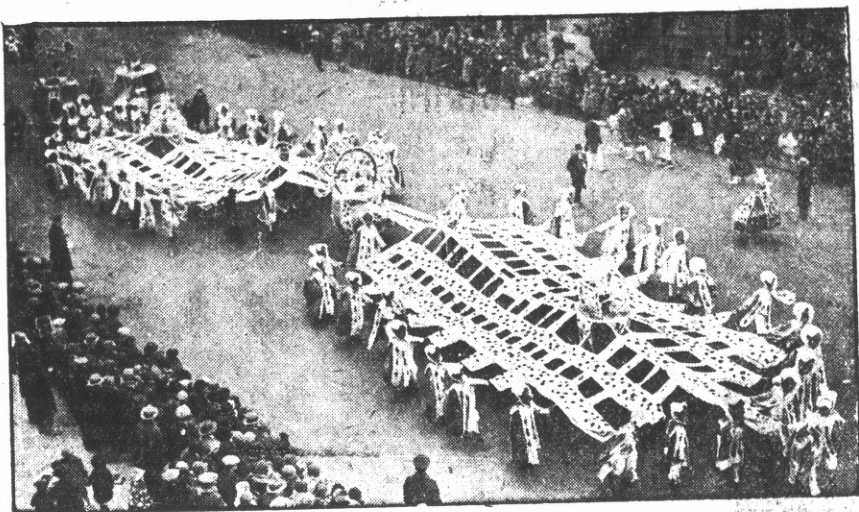

Stock Goes Up
There are 9,231,540 shares of stock of Standard Oil of Indiana outstanding. Since last Friday, when the flurry began, the stock has gone up in value $9.125 per share, or $4,145,487.50 for the total issue. Today's increase of $2 a share means an increase in market value of $18,463,080 for the whole issue.

It required approximately $9,200,000 to pay for the 92,000 shares which were bought and sold today. It was estimated by brokers that at least half of today's purchases were paid for in cash which meant that more than $4,600,000 in actual money was distinguished from paper transactions so popular on the market.

Followers of the market felt certain that only Rockefeller and Stewart were sufficiently interested in the situation to put that much cash into the market.

NATION TRAILS OTHERS IN SHIPS

struction of the 15 fighting ships and the aircraft carrier should start nations of the world on a new disarmament move because it demonstrates the desire of this country for naval equality with Great Britain.

"If competition continues after the passage of this bill, the responsibility belongs to the other nations and not to the United States," he declared.

Swanson emphasized the need for cruisers on the grounds of American shipping expansion to South America.

U. S. Behind Powers
According to figures submitted by the naval affairs committee, the 15 cruisers would bring the United States up to a parity with Japan and under Great Britain by 30 vessels.

At the present time modern cruisers built, building or appropriated for are as follows:
United States 18, Great Britain 63, Japan 33.

In ratios the three powers stand as follows: Great Britain 5, Japan 2.6, and the United States 1.4.

Cost Over $255,000,000
The total expenditure provided for in the cruiser bill will not exceed $255,000,000. The cruisers will not exceed $17,000,000 each and the aircraft carrier cost is estimated at $19,000,000.

The bill is expected to pass the senate but not without extensive debate which may last 10 days or longer.

Drivers Warned To Get Machine License At Once

Motorists are warned by the California State Automobile association that the period within which 1929 license plates must be secured is rapidly drawing to a close. The time limit fixed by law is midnight, Jan. 31, after which those who have not secured or applied for new plates for their cars must pay double the usual fee. Based on reports from its thirty offices issuing plates to association members and reports from offices of the State Motor vehicle division the motorist's organization estimates that between thirty and forty percent of the registered cars in the state are still without the new orange and black plates. An unprecedented last minute rush on issuing agencies is anticipated.

Now is the time to secure new plates before the congestion of the last week begins. Issuing offices are experiencing a hull at present and motorists can complete the necessary procedure in a few minutes time. Under all ordinary circumstances, presentation of the 1928 white certificate and payment of the $3 fee is all that is necessary. The pink certificate is needed if the white one is lost or mutilated or if there is to be recorded a change of legal owner. In the first instance a 50 cent fee is fixed by law and in the second an additional fee of one dollar must be paid.

AUTHOR LAUDS U. S. GIRLS' LIMBS

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—UP—A little weary of International Brotherhood, International Intrigue and International Law, Miss Rebecca West, serious British novelist, has just completed a study of what she indicatively calls "The International Leg."

Miss West banters about the ascendancy of American shapelessness, but readily admits in an article in the December issue of the American Sketch that the Star Spangled stocking hides the blue-ribbon choice.

"The legs behind British footlights have a robust quality that is in harmony with the national ideals implied by the song 'Hearts of Oak' 'Rule Britannia' and 'The Roast Beef of Old England'."

And of France she says: "She wishes her actress' legs like everything else within her frontiers to lend support to her ambition that this French Republic shall be as magnificent as the Roman empire, but shall endure forever. Hence, the legs which we most admire in Paris are those which are not only canny but are also triumphant over time. What could suggest better than the legs of Mistinguette that, past the centuries, they may, invade the barbarian hordes as they can, defeat and collapse need not follow if the edifice is worthy."

Of Italy:
"In that land legs are happily bred to a standard that long ago, but how deviously they move, unworthy they are, at their most animated to give their owner the beautiful title of 'hoofers'."

BOY TAKES CHARGE OF DEFENSE

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Jan. 16.—(UP) Gordon Stewart Northcott took his life in his own hands late today when he began a personal cross-examination of Sanford Clark, his 16 year old nephew, who has accused him of the murder of three young boys for whose death he is now on trial.

Northcott made a dramatic dismissal of his attorneys when court opened and announced in a loud, clear voice that he believed the truth could be arrived at only by him taking charge of the case.

With a smooth flow of questions, perfect in diction, he cross-examined the nephew who charged him with murder and abuse. The boy on the stand seemed unafraid of his uncle and, more than anything, resentful.

Quizzes Nephew
Northcott continually asked Sanford the day's, or years in which certain alleged crimes took place and when the boy repeated that "all days were alike then" the asserted slayer laughed and said, "You have a great head for terrible things, haven't you, Sanford, but you don't seem to remember dates very well."

The state interrupted only twice during three hours to protest that Northcott was wasting time questioning his nephew concerning various articles of furniture on the ranch.

When Northcott first faced Sanford he asked, "Now, Sanford, do you realize how serious this case is?"

"Yes, sir," the boy replied.

Sanford Denies Abuse
The defendant-attorney questioned the boy regarding their relationship. When Sanford answered that Northcott was his uncle, the latter asked him if he was certain or if at any time he had information which led him to believe they were brothers.

Sanford said he had not.

Northcott questioned the boy concerning his home life in Canada and elicited the information that Sanford's mother had agreed to let him come here.

Sanford said that Northcott had not abused him on two or three visits to the Clark home in Canada, as he accused him of doing on the farm here. Sanford admitted, that when he was only 13 years old he had improper relations with girls.

Boy Describes Victims
Northcott then switched to questions concerning Lewis and Nelson Winslow and the Mexican whose headless body was found near Puente, three deaths attributed to him by young Clark.

Sanford described the clothing worn by the Winslows when they asserted were kidnapped from the streets of Pomona and taken to the farm.

He said they were about 10 or 12 years old. Northcott then produced grand jury testimony in which his nephew had set the boys' ages as 7 or 10.

Young Clark could not tell on what night the boys first appeared on the farm or what month.

Forgot Dates
"He should remember dates," Northcott pointed out. "We always had a calendar there for use at the incubators and he referred to it constantly."

At another time Northcott referred to the headless Mexican. "You said the head was fresh when I brought it there. What date was that," he giggled.

"I don't know," Sanford replied. Neither did he know the year. He did not recall the dates of the trip from Canada to Riverside.

"Yes, you certainly have a good head for only the horrible things," Northcott repeated.

"I do when I helped to do it myself," Northcott, who took charge of the case "because he had a three year extension course in law at the University of Southern California," tapped himself nervously on the forehead with a rubber-tipped pencil.

He assumed a very serious attitude much of the time, uttering continually "are you positive," and "are you sure?"

He was able to assume the defense when Superior Judge George R. Freeman ruled he had a constitutional right either to retain counsel or conduct his own case. He may consult with any attorney or read the court's legal books for aid. Norbert Savay, chief of the dismissed counsel, will represent Northcott when he goes to trial for killing Walter Collins.

Richmond Love Nest Charged In Divorce Suit

A raid on a purported "love nest" at 221 South Fifteenth street, Richmond last week had its sequel yesterday when William A. Grist of 1200 Eighteenth street, Oakland, filed suit for divorce in the Alameda superior court against Mrs. Ethel Grist. Grist charges cruelty, alleging "other men" and particularly names Kinkenspiell of Richmond.

Grist is also seeking an annulment of the marriage, which the complaint states took place April 4, 1917, on the grounds that Mrs. Grist was still the wife of Floyd Suttel.

He seeks the custody of a daughter, Betty, 7, charging that the mother is not a fit custodian for the child. According to Louis Gonsalves, attorney for the plaintiff, Grist took the child from the mother after the invasion of the Richmond house.

CHANGES MADE IN SCHOOL QUINTETS

The Richmond high school varsity and "B" basketball teams are remedying the faults that cost them their games with Lowell high school Tuesday night. The "C's" are working out every night after school.

There is to be a full of several days in the basketball schedule. A change was made yesterday in the makeup of the B team and the varsity. Al Linstead, forward, and George Degnan, standing guard, were switched to the varsity from the B's. They have made a good record this term, and it is thought will keep up that record. Because of this gap in the B rank, Regalia, Young, and Drexel are promising prospects for Degnan's place. Marcus and Pen-den are working well in forward positions. Kovda has come up quickly to first string rating. Dalton is still making good as running guard.

In the varsity, Gordon is holding his own as center. Hall is making a steady forward. O'Connell, standing guard, who showed up very favorable in the Hayward game, is still in the first rank, with Taylor and Rickard runners-up. It is yet to be seen what kind of a showing the two B graduates will make on the varsity.

On the C team, Wakefield, forward, Gilliam, forward, Hampshire, center, Snodgrass, running guard, and Rogers, standing guard remain the best.

BEAR CAGERS TO PLAY WITHOUT LARRIEU

BERKELEY, Jan. 16.—The University of California's basketball team league leaders in the southern division of the Pacific Coast conference, will play their first home conference series this week-end minus the services of Frenchy Larrieu, star forward. Larrieu is nursing a broken right arm and dislocated wrist received in the second game of the series with Southern California Saturday night in Los Angeles. Physicians declare he will be out for the remainder of the season.

In Larrieu's place against U. C. L. A. Coach Nibs Price will probably start Lenny Stevens, another pint sized forward. Walt Weber, a novice who was shoved in to take Larrieu's assignment after he was injured, made a good impression with five field goals and is likely to play a good part of the series against the Blue Brigade.

California's starting lineup for both games, to be played in the Oakland Auditorium, will probably be: Ten Eyck, center; forward; and Coffield and Gregory, guards. Coach Caddy Works' starting lineup is likely to be: Lintineum, center; and Captain Sammy Baker and Baker, guards.

The Golden Bears, by virtue of two victories and no defeats, are heading the column of standings for the southern division loop. Including non-conference games, the Bears to date have won six out of seven contests played by a total score of 252 to 184. The lone game that was lost was dropped to Kansas by a one point margin, 24 to 23.

Bear Freshman Crew Starting On Workouts

BERKELEY, Jan. 16.—Candidates for the University of California freshmen crew this week turned out for their first workouts of the new year. Russ Nagler, freshmen coach, was yesterday met by the largest delegation of aspirants that has ever put in an appearance for first year crew—the result of winning of national and international championships last summer by the California varsity.

Ky Ebricht, varsity coach, announced today that he will not call out his men until next week, so that Nagler will have an opportunity to organize his freshmen first. The facilities at the crew sheds, once ample for all the oarsmen, must now be used on a carefully worked out schedule in order to accommodate all the men out for freshmen, junior varsity and varsity crew.

The Berkeley Y. M. I. cagers won from the Richmond Young Men's Division in a fast basketball game played in the Y. M. C. A. last night. The final score was 31 to 21.

Johnson was high man for the Y. M. D.'s scoring 11 points. Worley with 13 points starred for the Y. M. I. quintet.

The lineups:
Y. M. I. (31) P. Hall 8, R. Hall 8, forward; A. Sutter 2, and R. Lewis 4; Worley, 13, C. O'Brien, guards.
Y. M. D. (21) C. Sprague, forward; Johnson 11, Santella 4, center; Powell 1, and Brown, guards.

Reversible Ball Originator Will Try 10 Man Team

BERKELEY, Jan. 16.—Carl Zamloch, baseball coach at the University of California in his off-hours as a stock-broker, is an open-minded individual. Last year he introduced "reversible baseball" to a scandalized sporting public, and now he has announced that he will this season add to it the ten man team conceived by President Heydler of the National League.

Where Zamloch is going to try out his latest innovation is still a question, however, for the university administration has appropriated his old varsity diamond as a site for the largest academic building on the campus, and the freshmen diamond has had a big slice of the left garden removed to make way for construction of a new driveway.

Jack Sharkey, Stribling Sign For Match Soon

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 16.—(UP)—The first heavyweight championship elimination bout, with Jack Sharkey of Boston and "Young" Stribling of Macon, Ga., as the principals will be a decision affair and will be staged under the auspices of the American Legion.

Contracts between Jack Dempsey, for Madison Square Garden corporation, and H. N. Fairbanks, post commander, for the American Legion, were signed here today, calling for the bout to be held Feb. 27.

This formality apparently disposes of the last impediment to the fight since Florida law requires all decision fights to be held under auspices of the Legion. Ticket offices today were opened across the street from the dog racing track where the fight will be held.

Von Elm, Armour Tie In First Days Golf Play

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 16.—UP—George von Elm, Detroit amateur, and Tommy Armour, of Washington, D. C., took to the soggy municipal course like two ducks today and tied for the lead in the Pasadena $4000 open tournament at the end of the first round.

They turned in cards of 69, two under par, for today's 18 holes of the 36 hole event. A heavy rain which hit the links this morning, swamping fairways and greens, did not hamper them as it did some.

Walter Hagen, the British open champion, seemed back in form after his disappointing showing at Los Angeles last week, and tied Henry Cluel, of Bridgeport, Conn., for second place with a card of 70.

Hagen was out in 33, two under par, as was Armour, but a six on the eighteenth hole relegated him to second position. Macdonald Smith, steady as usual, came in one over par with a 72. Tied with him were Eddie Loos, Pasadena, and Craig Wood, New York.

John Junor, Portland, Ore., and Bobby Cruickshank, of progress, N. Y., had 73's. Cards of 74 were turned in by Fred Morrison, Los Angeles, Dallas Jeffers, Long Beach, and John Black, San Francisco.

Courtney To Battle Payne

(BY UNITED PRESS)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The postponed bout between Tiger Payne, Australian Negro, and George Courtney, Oklahoma cowboy, who recently graduated from the middleweight to the light heavyweight ranks, will be held at the St. Nicholas arena next Monday night.

HEENEY PLANS TO FIGHT COMEBACK

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Between diamond rings and boxing rings, Tom Heenev, the New Zealand heavyweight, has chosen the latter and is training daily for a comeback he hopes will land him a match with Jack Dempsey in September.

Heenev married after his unsuccessful attempt to win the world's championship from Gene Tunney last July at Yankee stadium and returned to his home at Glenside, New Zealand, on his honeymoon. He came back to this country in November with every intention of becoming a diamond importer.

Charlie Harvey, his manager, and the late Tex Rickard talked him out of it.

"You can peddle diamonds any old time," Harvey insisted. "Tom, I want you to fight Paolino," Rickard told him. "The winner gets Sharkey or Stribling and then the big shot with Dempsey will be waiting for the victor."

"As long as Dempsey's going to be in it," Tom said today, "I guess the best the rest of us mugs can do is get in there and fight for a chance to meet him."

Heenev probably will meet Paolino Uzcudun in his first comeback bout. They have met twice before, Paolino winning the first decision and the second bout ending in a draw.

"I'd just love to fight Paolino," Tom said. "That's one guy I can lick. If I can't whip him I'm going to quit and get started in my diamond business."

RICKARD THOUGHT DEMPSEY TOO SMALL FOR CHAMPION, BATTLE CHANGED OPINION

This story is based upon facts obtained by Kirksey up to the time of Rickard's illness, and on information gathered from many parts of the country and men and women who knew Rickard from boyhood, including his 81 year-old mother in Seattle, who contributed largely to the first chapter.

The story is copyrighted by the United Press associations. By GEORGE KIRKSEY CHAPTER 7

Jack Kearns "sold" Jack Dempsey to Rickard. The promoter always thought Dempsey was too small before he won the championship. He liked big men.

Just exactly when and where Rickard and Dempsey first met is not clear. Dempsey said the other day that he first met Rickard at Goldfield in 1911, but it is doubtful if Rickard was in Goldfield at that time. It is believed that Rickard had already left for South America. Dempsey did not begin fighting until 1915.

"I was just a kid at that time and I doubt if Rickard remembered meeting me at all," Dempsey said.

Kearns Only Booster

"Anyways, Rickard first began to hear of Dempsey as a prize fighter around 1918. Rickard did not put his finger on Dempsey and say, 'there's the next champion and the greatest drawing card the boxing game will ever know.' Kearns was the only one who said that.

Dempsey had been east in 1915 under the management of John Harbar and Lew Raymond, but he did not make a favorable impression. He won a 10 round decision over John Lester Johnson but the big negro caved in Dempsey's ribs and laid him up for a time.

In 1918 Dempsey returned east under the management of Jack Kearns. "This kid is the next world's champion," Kearns told everyone who would listen to him. Few did.

Dempsey was matched with Fred Fulton, the Minnesota Plasterer, then among the outstanding contenders for the title. They met at Harrison, N. J., and Dempsey scored one of the quickest knockouts on record. The fight was over in 17 seconds, with Fulton stretched on the canvas as if dead.

Now Kearns started his cam-paired for a Dempsey-Willard match Jack Curley, who had promoted the Dempsey-Fulton match, was too busy with other things to listen to Kearns. Finally Kearns got Rickard interested in the match.

Dempsey Too Small
"Dempsey's too small for Willard," Rickard kept telling him even after he made up his mind to promote the bout.

Rickard wanted to stage the bout in New York City, but decision bouts were illegal in New York state at that time. Rickard was looking around for a site when Ad Thatcher, Toledo promoter, came to New York. He persuaded Rickard that Toledo, accessible to most of the big mid-western cities, was the logical place to hold the fight.

Rickard signed Willard for a $100,000 guarantee, the largest purse offered a fighter up to that time. There was a disagreement as to what Dempsey should receive. Kearns thought Dempsey should receive as much as Willard.

Press Decides
Finally it was agreed that 12 newspapermen present at the conference would decide Dempsey's guarantee. Each one wrote what he thought Dempsey was worth on a slip of paper. The average sum was $27,500 and that was the figure Dempsey signed to fight Willard for.

Dempsey's size (he weighed around 180 in those days) continued to perplex Rickard even after the fighters started training for the bout. Willard weighed 215.

"Kid, you look awful small to me," Rickard said to Dempsey. "Do you really think you can lick him?"

Willard Loses
The fight was held July 4, 1919. The giant Willard was slashed to pieces by the tigerish Dempsey. Willard was counted out in the first round, but the bell sounded before the referee brought his count. Dempsey, who had left the ring, was brought back and he hammered Willard to submission in the next round.

Willard's seconds tossed in the sponge when the bell rang for the third round as Willard was too weak to assume a fighting position. He was led from the ring a pitiable sight, his face hammered to a gory pulp.

The receipts of the Dempsey-Willard bout were $452,522, and Rickard made a profit of about years.

$100,000 after he had paid all expenses, including the erection of the arena.

To Fame Together

Rickard and Dempsey rode to fame together. Kearns played a major role at the start, but he later drifted out of the picture when he split with Dempsey. It is doubtful if either Rickard or Dempsey would have been as successful without the other.

Rickard promoted all but two of Dempsey's fights for the title. Floyd Fitzsimmons promoted the Dempsey-Miske fight at Benton Harbor, Mich., in 1920. The Dempsey-Gibbons fight was promoted by a group of Montana men at Shelby, Mont., in 1923.

In the seven bouts which Rickard promoted with Dempsey as a principal the receipts totaled $9,164,861.82.

Advisor To Jack

After Dempsey's split with Kearns late in 1923, Dempsey turned to Rickard as his adviser. Before the Sharkey fight, Dempsey asked Rickard to become his manager, but Tex turned him down, saying:

"I'll help you and advise you, Jack, but I can't become your manager."

Nevertheless, Rickard was frequently accused of managing Dempsey. Jack Sharkey openly charged Rickard with being Dempsey's manager shortly before the promoter's death. Rickard merely laughed at Sharkey's accusations and said:

"It's good publicity." (Chapter eight deals with the first "Battle of the Century.")

America's Stage Favorite

George M. Cohan, America's Stage Favorite

No longer need a trim, slender figure be your envy. No longer need you face the rigid requirements of harsh dieting methods. Overweight is banished when you banish fattening sweets and eating between meals and light a Lucky. "Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet."

20,679 physicians have confirmed the fact that Lucky Strike is less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes. These professional men realize the value of soothing, the secret process that eliminates impurities and irritants. Lucky Strike is a delightful blend of the world's finest tobaccos. And soothing develops a flavor which is a delightful alternative for fattening sweets.

Many prominent athletes testify that Luckies steady their nerves and do not harm their physical condition. Men have long known this and practiced it successfully. These are the men who watch their health, who keep trim and fit, realizing the dangers of overweight. And now, women may enjoy a companionable smoke with their husbands and brothers—at the same time slenderizing in a sensible manner. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

"It's toasted"

RECOVERY

San Jose, Cal.,
Nov. 12, 1928.
To Whom It May Concern:

For some time past I suffered with nervous attacks similar to St. Vitus Dance. My speech was so affected that I could scarcely make myself understood. My heart Herbalist best (fast and healthy). I tried every method of healing known to me in vain. Then I was recommended to try the Fong Wan Herb. Now, after but two weeks of that treatment, I am completely well.

My friends and neighbors as well as the men who formerly treated me are all surprised at my recovery in almost no time. All inquire as to whose skill has brought me such wonderful and quick relief.

SENATE BATTLE ON OIL BILL PREDICTED

consider the measure tomorrow afternoon and public hearing on taxation will be held tomorrow night with both houses present.

Appointment of a committee to further the interests of California in connection with the 1932 Olympic Games will be asked in a resolution to be introduced Thursday by Frank Connelley, assemblyman from Napa.

Attempts of Edgar S. Hurley, senator from Oakland, to have the state payroll presented to legislators before the budget bill is passed is also on the schedule of Thursday's business.

The loud speaker system will be tried out in the assembly chambers at once. Constant pounding of Speaker Levey's gavel has failed to quiet the disconcerting undertone in the assembly and the electrical device will be experimented with to overcome the difficulty.

A health certificate would be required of all couples applying for marriage licenses under the bill proposed today by assemblyman Jerome V. Scofield of Huntington Park.

Repeal of the California capital punishment law was sought in a bill by James Quigley, assemblyman from San Francisco while assemblyman Chester Cline is considering a proposal asking that the gallows be abolished and lethal gas substituted in executions.

Real Estate Bond
Real estate salesmen would be required to deposit a $5000 bond according to a measure offered by William Hornblower, assemblyman from San Francisco. Dealers would be asked to deposit a bond of $10,000 the bill said.

Financial responsibility of oil drillers should be established before they start operations, Morgan Keaton, assemblyman from Long Beach, suggested in a bill.

Smith Pleads For Party Organization

1932.

There was nothing in the speech regarding dissections among some Democrats as to the desirability of his leadership. He appealed, apparently as the standard bearer chosen for the recent campaign, regardless of who his successor may be.

Primarily, in the speech, there was an appeal for contributions to make up the campaign deficit and to permit the building up of an organization that would keep active all the time.

BALLENGER BETTER

General Foch Shows Slight Improvement

PARIS, Jan. 16.—UP—There was a "perceptible improvement" in the condition of Marshal Ferdinand Foch tonight but the greatest patience is necessary for his recovery from uraemic poisoning which set in after a heart attack early Monday, physicians said.

The morale of the famous Allied World War leader is still "splendid," they reported late today the marshal was taking slight nourishment but constant administration of medicine to aid his heart and to combat the poisoning must continue.

Foch's parish priest was called to his bedside this morning when the marshal suffered a sudden turn for the worse. The priest is the usual confessor of the marshal, who is a devout Catholic. He remained in the sickroom for half an hour.

Apparently the patient's condition improved quickly and by nightfall he was resting more easily. Foch has been subject to suffocation spells during the last three days.

Foch was fed rice and milk and jam this afternoon.

Queen Mary of England wired an expression of hope for Foch's recovery and said that King George would have sent a message if he had been able.

The kings of Spain, Belgium and Italy sent wires to their embassies ordering them to keep the monarchs advised constantly of the marshal's condition.

Foch, realizing the gravity of his condition, asked his physicians to tell him frankly if he had a chance for recovery, but he kept up the fighting spirit which has aided his doctors so far.

Walnut Growers In Damage Suit

MARTINEZ, Jan. 16.—Breach of a grower's contract is charged in a suit filed in superior court here today by the Contra Costa County Walnut Growers association against Rose A. McCaw.

Damages of $154 for the defendant's alleged sale of 2175 pounds of walnuts to an agency other than the association on Oct. 10, 1928 is asked in the suit. The association claims that the agreement made it incumbent upon the defendant to deliver all of her walnut crop to the association for sale. Attorney fees amounting to $150 are asked in addition to the alleged damages.

Mexico Plans To Halt Emigration

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16.—UP—Nearly 100,000 Mexican workers entered the United States in 1928, according to official figures released today. Felipe Canales, acting secretary of the Interior ordered immediate measures to curb the influx northward as it is "of deep concern" to the government.

AMERICA'S first stream line plane, the "Scout" designed by M. C. Tunison. Note the graceful wing and cabin lines. It is a low-wing monoplane and is said to have made 200 miles an hour. The construction is plywood and the wing spread is 35 feet.

CURVES AHEAD FOR SPRING STYLES

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—UP—A glorious spring is just around the corner for plump girls.

For the first time in ten years, they will be back in style.

After many seasons of neglect, the fashion artists have decided to do something for the damsels well treated by nature—girls with a curve here and there, girls who can set on a park bench comfortably, girls who affect the plimsoll line of a canoe, girls who in fact constitute an armful and do not creak when they are hugged.

The good news came out today, at the Hotel Astor, where 2000 members of the Garment Retailers of America are celebrating Easter a little ahead of time.

New Styles Shown
The big event was a style show for the out of town buyers, with 35 New York manufacturers exhibiting the latest work in futilities on living models. And from first to last of the 140 creations shown, there sounded the new warning: "curves ahead."

Even the models seemed not to be the models of yesterday. Somebody has been feeding them.

Whereas, a few months ago only models with high insteps were allowed any curves at all, the new ones displayed perfectly natural lines in places which young men now in preparatory schools have always supposed to be angular—if they existed at all.

All of 'em Thih

Furthermore somebody had been everexercising them.

In all the galaxy of beauties applauded by buyers from as near as Jersey City and as far away as San Francisco, there was not a single case of incident tuberculosis. There were even devices on display which seemed designed to accentuate, rather than cry down, the sudden conclusion on the part of dress-makers that bones are a little less than beautiful.

Having displayed their wares, the dress manufacturers put into writing.

Curves Stressed
"It is obvious," said in an announcement pointing it out, "that American designers are increasingly inclined to publicize the wearers' curves."

Other, if lesser, pronouncements for spring came out of the meeting. The skirts of evening gowns may be any or several distances from the floor, but on the street the great American feminine knee-caps will still be on display at the whims of every puff of wind.

Four new shades are being sponsored.

"Pandango," a burnt orange, for sport and street wear, "foliage green," and "Almond green" for afternoon dresses; "rosand" a street wear beige; and "bonnie blue" a lustrous dark blue.

Benicia Starts Mudflat Filling
BENICIA, Jan. 16.—Filling in of 80 acres of mudflat land has been started after months of preparations and the expenditure of thousands of dollars. The fill-in which will raise the present level of the land in the district from three to eight feet will provide industrial development sites.

Dredging was started yesterday morning and will take four months to complete, according to officials of the Dutton Dredging company of San Francisco. The Pacific Gas and Electric company has installed a special electric line for the operation of the dredge.

Conference On Western Road Problems Set

Further improvement of the Victory Highway and continued exploitation of this main route to Northern and Central California will be planned at a conference of highway leaders and officials of four states to be held in Reno, Saturday, Jan. 19, Colorado, Utah, Nevada and California will be represented at the meeting which has been called by the Victory Highway association through its western headquarters, the California State Automobile association.

The four states traversed by the western end of the Victory route have common problems of development on this important artery and other main routes which are dependent on legislation pending in Congress, according to George S. Forderer, western director of the Victory Highway association and treasurer of the Automobile association.

"If the western states are to secure the necessary assistance in road-building that congressional action on pending legislation will provide," said Forderer, "it is necessary that the West present a united front on a definite program and that plans be formulated to campaign vigorously for the passage of those measures which are of interest to the West. This is the primary purpose of the meeting."

"The Victory Highway, together with all other main routes of travel in the West, will reap a benefit if this is accomplished. While there has been a substantial increase in travel over this route during the past year as compared with the previous year, I believe that the time is ripe to formulate plans for an even greater increase in Victory Highway traffic to the West during the 1929 season."

Marine Leader Sails For Home

Epidemic Wanes But Demand for Vicks Continues
Colds which Attack Weakened System After Flu Responsible For Record Output.

SECOND WAVE FEARED
Public health officials now report a decline in the number of flu cases. They urge everybody, however, to keep on taking precautions against colds for fear of a second and more severe flu wave, as in 1918.

There is, besides, the risk of deep chest colds, bronchitis and pneumonia, which normally breach their peak between now and April and which have a double danger this year with so many people in the run-down condition which follows a flu attack.

That millions throughout the country are heeding this warning is evident from the persistent call for Vicks VapoRub, the external treatment which proved so helpful in 1918. The Vicks laboratories are still operating the emergency night shifts which were put on at the height of the epidemic, as the public continues to demand over 375,000 jars every 24 hours.

Auto Announcement Breaks Mail Mark
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—UP—Preparations were being made here tonight to receive 2326 pounds of air mail, the San Francisco Bay regions share of 38,000 pounds of air mail dispatched by an automobile company in Toledo Ohio today that will require for the first time two airplanes between Salt Lake and here.

DEATH OF GIRL HELD DUE TO ABUSE

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 16

(UP)—A three-day diet of bread and water, the water tainted by the taste of salt-petre, and injections of twilight sleep when they objected, was the punishment meted out to six inmates of the girl's welfare home for escaping. It was testified this afternoon at an inquest into the death of Helen Haskew, 18, of Portales, who died from the effects of the punishment.

The inquest was conducted before a jury by Dr. F. E. Bird, county physician, who refused to accept the report of Dr. Evelyn Frisbie, home physician, that Miss Haskew's death was due to a heart attack induced by exposure which the girl suffered when she escaped.

The jury returned a verdict that the death was due to lack of pure water and to the Twilight sleep injections administered by Miss Bertha Lips, superintendent, and Dr. Frisbie, home physician. District Attorney Eugene Lujan said he would file charges of manslaughter against both women, probably within the next 24 hours.

Conditions at the home were described by five girls who escaped with Miss Haskew, and were recaptured 20 miles from town. The girls said the unbearable life in the institution caused them to attempt to escape. They said that the water given them when they were brought back contained so much salt-petre that it tasted like poison.

They told how Helen rebelled against taking the water, and about the injection of Twilight sleep to quiet her. Her death followed the injection by about 18 hours.

GOVERNOR TO PROBE HOME

SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 16.—UP—Governor Richard C. Dillon this afternoon directed a legislative committee to investigate conditions at the girl's welfare home in Albuquerque. The governor's action followed the death of Helen Haskew, 18, an inmate of the home, and reports that unusual punitive measures were taken against her and five companions after they attempted to escape.

A transatlantic telephone conversation the other day resulted in the sale of 100 motor boats by a Michigan concern, representing

Legend Of Bell Shattered At Kiwanis Meet

Another old legend has been shattered.

The Liberty Bell, a totem of American Independence was not cracked while it was pealing forth the news of American Independence as some history books would have us believe. Instead it was cracked while ringing a toll during the funeral parade of Chief Justice John Marshall.

This was the statement made before the members of the Richmond Kiwanis club yesterday by H. G. Mathewson, secretary of the state railroad commission. Mathewson's address dealt with "Sacred Shrines of American History."

Herbert Blake was appointed the new song leader and led the club in comic song competition. Dan C. Bettencourt, Richmond jeweler, was accepted as a new member.

The members have been invited to the charter night ceremonies of the North Oakland Kiwanis club including Emeryville, which will be held Jan. 26.

FIVE FIREMEN HURT IN BLAZE

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 16.—UP—

Five firemen were injured, two of them seriously, when a spectacular fire destroyed a new sound stage at the Paramount-Famous Players Laskey studio here tonight causing damage estimated at $400,000.

Fifty thousand persons were massed outside the studio walls. The fire was put under control at 10 p. m. after nearly four hours. In a statement issued by the studio, Jesse L. Lasky, placed the damage at $400,000 fully covered by insurance. He said that production which was to have been started in the new building Monday after equipment was installed, would be transferred to other stages.
